

Umpires Seminar – 29 April 2010

For those who are attending nationals. Doug, Alan and I will be holding an umpires seminar on the Thursday before nationals (the 29th) at 8.30 at the Slovenian club (see websites events page for more details). The seminar will explain a few rules, positions and signals and then have a questions session.

It is for anyone and everyone coming to Nationals 2010, so please attend.

If you are going to be refereeing any games during the nationals I highly recommend you attend.

If you are going to help us out and do some time on the duty bench it might be worth wild attending just so you can learn or have a refresher on the signals and what to do in certain events.

If you just want to get a better knowledge of the game and it's rules, or have a few questions please come along. As I said it is for anyone and the more the better.

If you have any questions please don't hesitate to ask me. Also please pass this on to anyone who you may think is interested. Also if you are in close contact with people going to nationals can you please make sure they know about the seminar.
